Writing

Exercise 17

Model Writing

I've played the guitar since I was eight years old. My parents paid for the lessons for me. As I got better, I was allowed to choose my own music to play and now I love it.

I've been playing in a band with my friends for a few years now. Last year we were asked to play in the school concert. All of our parents were there, and they were really proud of us. I'm working on a song that I've written myself. I think people will like it.

My dad plays the drums and my mum plays the piano and keyboard. They've said we should do something together, and I think that would be pretty cool.
