TIPS FOR SAFE CYCLING IN AMSTERDAM

Although cycling in Amsterdam is really safe, the huge numbers of cyclists, plus car and tram traffic, mean that accidents might happen. So, follow some basic rules to make sure you avoid problems during your ride.

• Keep to cycle lanes: avoid crossing the white lines so you don't ride into the road for car traffic. Also, do not enter walking areas on your bike, like footpaths or sidewalks.
• Hand signals are necessary to make sure other road users know what you are planning to do, especially when you're going to turn or stop.
• Make sure your bicycle has both front and back lights which you must turn on after dark. If you don't, the police will stop you and you'll have to pay a fine.
• Pay special attention to trams as they always have the right of way. So, you mustn't go across tram tracks if you see a tram coming towards you.

1 Cyclists must keep between the ___________________________ so they don't go onto the roads.
2 While cycling, use your hand to inform others that you want to ______________________ or change direction.
3 Your bike must have front and back _________________________ for riding in the dark.
4 Trams always go ______________________ ! Stop before the tracks if there's a tram coming towards you.

Holidays can be fun, but also stressful when things go wrong. Last year my family went to Rome for a sightseeing holiday. The problems started at the airport because my sister had too much luggage. My dad was angry when he had to pay extra for that! Also, our flight was late and we had to wait three hours at the airport. Then, when we arrived at the hotel in Rome, there was a problem with our reservation and we didn’t get the rooms we wanted. And every time we went sightseeing in the city and asked people the best way to a place, they gave us wrong directions!
